

Developing Language and Literacy across the Curriculum for EAL Pupils

Hounslow Language Service Ltd

Can your pupils describe or explain events and processes or develop and analyse an argument in Science, Geography, History or any other subject areas?

Do they have a knowledge of the key features of subject specific vocabulary and language?

Do your pupils have the language to demonstrate that they have acquired the key skills required for different subjects areas?

This course will :

- analyse the demands that different subject areas make on teaching and learning in the classroom
- identify the characteristics of subject specific vocabulary and language structure
- explore practical classroom strategies to enable learners of all levels of English to use appropriate academic language to articulate their ideas in a clear and coherent manner

Suitable for teachers and support staff working from KS1 to KS4.
